

POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMME SPECIFIC OUTCOMES

Name of the Programme: M.A. English

PS01	The rationale for studying Literature in English is that it primarily reinforces the guiding principles for education reform outlined in the UGC guidelines.
PS02	The Literature component in English Curriculum will provide learners with learning experiences to appreciate and enjoy literature, encourage self-expression and creativity, enhance their critical and analytical skills, improve their competence in the use of English, develop their cultural understanding as well as positive values and attitudes conducive to lifelong learning, and prepare them for further study or work.
PS03	Learners will be enabled to appreciate and enjoy a wide range of literary or creative texts and to appreciate other related cultural forms.
PS04	The curriculum will help learners to develop a humanistic outlook of life.
PS05	Through a close interaction with literary/creative works, which portray a range of human thoughts, emotions and experiences, learners will gain knowledge and an understanding of the nature of human existence and of the world.
PS06	Through Indian Writing in English students will be exposed to the rich cultural heritage of Indian literary tradition as it adopts various literary forms and also addresses different issues.
PS07	Applied Linguistics aims to focus on practical aspects of language so students will be enabled to understand the social dimensions of not only English but also their own languages
PS08	American Literature will provide students a general introduction to the major texts that led to the evolution of American literature as an independent branch of literature in English.
PS09	World Literature in English will offer students glimpses of the representations of cultural diversities and technical experiments that the authors try to project in the selected works.
