DESCRIPTIVE REPORT ON GUIDANCE TALK ON BASICS OF ACADEMIC WRITING

The Department of English and Postgraduate Center organized a Guidance Talk on Basics of Academic Writing with an aim to motivate and thereby enable students develop their reasoning and writing - the two interdependent skills indispensable for academic success.

“The skill of writing like an academic so to sound scholarly to the readers of your text puts students on pedestal and distinguishes an individual from the rest”, said Mr. Zameer Salim Sayyed, the Resource Person of the talk. Further he said, “There are no good students or bad students. There are only good writers and bad writers”, while highlighting how academic evaluation is mostly based on writing ranging from personal notes to Ph. D. theses.

He oriented sixty-six student-participants to the types of academic writing. The focus was on reading for gist in the context of textual details, quality of writing and accuracy in content.

The stories, essays, and poems prescribed to the students in their English syllabus were explained in writing on PowerPoint slides. The emphasis was placed on steps such as reading the text with a goal of writing gist, formulating one or two long descriptive questions, and at last writing their answers to tally one’s understanding of the content, simplifying the What, Why, and How of getting started while preparing for any examination/assessment.

Students listening on 'writing' that's appreciated in the academics (06.03.2023)

REPORT ON: Workshop on Foldscope

10/03/2023: Foldscope is an optical microscope that can be assembled from simple components, including a sheet of paper and lens. This innovation is a matter of pride for Indians as it has been designed and built by an Indian Manu Prakash. His aim was to make a affordable and easy tool that any layman could own.

Department of Botany, Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Pune organized a Workshop on Foldscope to give students an experience of this amazing tool. Head, Dept of Botany, C.T. Bora College, Shirur, Dr. Narayan Ghangaonkar, was the presenter of the day. He gave a brief history of the invention and then proceeded to show what a foldscope actually is, how it is assembled and used.

10/03/2023: Dr. Narayan Ghangaonkar briefing students on the assembly and use of foldscope.

10/03/2023: Dr. Narayan Ghangaonkar assembling the foldscope as demonstration to students.

His team helped students assemble the foldscope and observe microscopic structures. Students were amazed at the sight of pollen grains and stomata using the foldscope. The easy to use, highly functional foldscope indeed is an interesting and mesmerizing instrument!!!

10/03/2023: The team assembling the foldscope while students using the foldscope.

Participants were given certificates of participation. The guest was overwhelmed with the response of students and their active participation.

10/03/2023: Dr. Narayan Ghangaonkar distributing certificates of participation to students.
