DETAILED REPORT

Production of saplings of medicinal plants: Moringa

28/08/2023: With an inclination of man towards herbal medicines, there is a need to cultivate medicinal plants and provide raw material for drug production. With this in mind and an objective to train students in cultivation practices of medicinal plants, the Department of Botany, AKI's Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce initiated "Project Moringa".

The Department took an initiative to cultivate medicinal plants such as Moringa, on a piece of land at Bopgaon, donated by the Management for Skill Development among students of Botany. The co-ordinator Dr. Aafreen A. Ahmed briefed F.Y. and S.Y. B.Sc. students on the first step in cultivation practices of Moringa i.e. production of saplings. She explained the following steps and made students do it in person:

1. Preparation of potting mixture using compost and coco peat

2. Preparation of trays: filling trays with potting mixture

3. Sowing seeds: one seed per well sown by pressing it a few cms in potting mixture.

4. Irrigation: twice a week.

Students carried out these steps and successfully prepared 36 seedling trays!

After a month, the seeds germinated to well established saplings, ready to be transplanted in soil.

In all, 51 students volunteered to work in the production of Moringa saplings. This was possible under the able guidance of Principal Dr. Aftab Anwar Shaikh and Vice Principal (Science), Dr. Iqbal Shaikh and supervision of staff Dr. Aafreen Ahmed and Miss Nabila Shaikh.

Report on National Education Day 11th Novemeber,2023

National Education Day 2023: It is observed on 11 November in India to honour Maulana Abul Kalam's birthday.

National Education Day was first observed by the Ministry of Human Resource Development on November 11, 2008. It is observed every year after the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad who was the first Educational Minister of Independent India. He served Educational Minister for over a period of Ten Years. The Day is celebrated to honor the First Educational Minister of India and his uncomparable contribution to the Education system of India.

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad helped with the establishment of two major education governing bodies of India - the University Grants Commission (UGC) and the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE). The First National Education Day was celebrated on 11th November 2008 at Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi, and was first inaugurated by then President Pratibha Patil.

To celebrate National Education Day 2023 NSS Unit, Poona College had participated in the rally from the college to Maulana Azad Hall, Koregoan Park to promote the importance of Education.The rally was then followed by a program in the Maulana Azad Hall, Koregoan Park.

During National Education Day 2023, Rallies with banner cards and Slogans imposing the importance of learning were displayed.

Slogan with beautiful quotes of Maulana Azad were displayed in the rally some quotes like

- "Educationists should build the capacities of the spirit of inquiry, creativity, entrepreneurial and moral leadership among students and become their role model."
- "Education imparted by heart can bring revolution in the society."
- "To succeed in your mission, you must have single-minded devotion to your goal."
- "Slavery is worst even if it bears beautiful names."

NSS Volunteers and staff members participated in the rally with great zeal and enthusiasm and spread the message of importance of education on the eve of birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam.

REPORT

ANTI RAGGING AWARENESS

MONDAY, 14th AUGUST, 2023

TITLE: Report on Anti Ragging Awareness SYBBA - CA at Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Camp, Pune
DATE: Saturday, 14th August 2023
VENUE: M - 7, PIMSE Building
NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 32

Ragging is a serious issue that has plagued educational institutions for many years, causing physical and psychological harm to students. In an effort to create a safe and welcoming environment for all students. Department of BBA – CA has organized an activity of showing a video on anti-ragging awareness to SYBBA – CA students. Total 32 students have participated in this activity. The activity is coordinated by Mrs. Shabeena Khan. Mrs. Shabeena Khan discussed the seriousness of ragging to the students.

The purpose of this initiative was to educate students about the harmful consequences of ragging, emphasize the institution's zero-tolerance policy, and encourage a sense of responsibility and respect among the student community.

The video depicts the occurrence of ragging incidents and the subsequent actions taken when the culprits are apprehended. It portrays the distressing situation of a student who attempted suicide, but a caring teacher intervened and encouraged the student to demonstrate resilience and clear their name in the case.

The anti-ragging awareness video presentation proved to be a valuable tool in conveying the institution's commitment to eradicating ragging and creating a safe space for all students. It is essential to continue such initiatives regularly to reinforce the message and uphold a culture of respect and empathy within the campus community.

MONDAY, 14th AUGUST, 2023

TITLE: Report on Anti Ragging Awareness TYBBA - CA at Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Camp, Pune

DATE: Saturday, 14th August 2023

VENUE: M - 6, PIMSE Building

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS:

Ragging is a serious issue that has plagued educational institutions for many years, causing physical and psychological harm to students. In an effort to create a safe and welcoming environment for all students. Department of BBA – CA has organized an activity of showing a video on anti-ragging awareness to TYBBA – CA students. Total 32 students have participated in this activity. The activity is coordinated by Mr. Faheemuddin Ahmed.

The purpose of this initiative was to educate students about the harmful consequences of ragging, emphasize the institution's zero-tolerance policy, and encourage a sense of responsibility and respect among the student community.

The video depicts the occurrence of ragging incidents and the subsequent actions taken when the culprits are apprehended. It portrays the distressing situation of a student who attempted suicide, but a caring teacher intervened and encouraged the student to demonstrate resilience and clear their name in the case.

The anti-ragging awareness video presentation proved to be a valuable tool in conveying the institution's commitment to eradicating ragging and creating a safe space for all students. It is essential to continue such initiatives regularly to reinforce the message and uphold a culture of respect and empathy within the campus community.

Report on CAD (Computer Aided Design) Training Program

Department of Computer Science in association with Training and Placement cell and IQAC of Y & M AKI's Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce, orchestrated a comprehensive 40-hour course on CAD (Computer-Aided Design) Training Program for the students of T.Y.BSc(CS). The program was organised under the able guidance of Principal Dr. Aftab Anwer Shaikh, Vice-Principle Dr. Iqbal Shaikh, Head of Computer Science and BBA(CA) Dr. Shabana Shaikh, coordinator of Placement Cell Miss. Zareen Sharif. Ms. Shaheda Ansari, Assistant Professor Department of Computer Science, led the coordination of the event.

Mr. Sujit Joshi was the resource person. Mr. Sujit Joshi has more than 25 years of experience in academics and CAD. The course garnered enthusiastic participation, with over 25 students enrolling. The first session took place on August 29th 2023, and the concluding session was scheduled for January 9th 2024. The resource person taught the two mostly used graphic design tools namely Adobe Illustrator and Adobe Photoshop.

The session was started with felicitation of the resource person Mr. Sujit Joshi by Dr. Shabana Shaikh. Ms. Shaheda Ansari delivered the welcome address and introduction of the resource person Mr. Sujit Joshi. The resource person started the session by introducing the softwares and later on explained the uses and importance of both the applications in the designing world. Expert explained in detail about the use of CAD and designing in different fields worldwide and career opportunities. The expert discussed Computer-aided design is one of the many tools used by engineers and designers and is used in many ways depending on the profession of the user and the type of software. The software which is used worldwide is Adobe Illustrator and Adobe Photoshop. The expert helped the students in downloading both the software's in their respective system's and explained the detailed information about the software and its working.

He introduced Adobe illustrator to the students and also made them familiar with all the tools and techniques used in the application. He gave detailed notes of each tool and displayed their working practically. The speaker created various designs using different shapes and symbols and also encouraged the students to try creating their own designs. The expert taught the students to work from scratch and create high definition vector images by using different tools. He also asked the students to select any one cartoon character and trace it exactly the same using pen tool, which is the most important tool used in designing. The students showed huge interest in tracing out the characters. The expert also practically showed the students how trace the character perfectly and also helped the students to resolve their queries. He also asked the students to select any gradient vector image and trace it using pen tool and fill the color using gradient and mesh tool. He further showed the students some shortcuts that can make the designing work easier and efficient. He also stated that this application is used in various ways for designing pamphlets, posters, cartoon characters etc.

After completion of the first application the expert started with Adobe Photoshop. He gave detailed notes of the tools and showed their use practically. The expert asked the students to make 3 collages using different techniques and tools available in Photoshop. The expert also gave the students some edited images and asked the students to recreate it. He also showed the students how to edit and enhance graphic images by using Adobe Photoshop. In the last session, the expert took the revision for both the applications. Later, the expert graciously invited and welcomed queries, fostering an open and interactive environment. The course proved to be highly informative, and all the students expressed their satisfaction in being a part of it.

GRAPHIC DESIGN COURSE SYLLABUS

- Computer Studies
- Generic Skills
- Basic Information about Software [Bitmap vs Vector]
- Introduction to Software [Tools and layers]
- Graphics Principle and Method of Design
- Colour Theory
- Typographic Design
- Design techniques
- Design: Character
- Editing and Filters
- Background & Concept
- Web page, Advertisement, Brochure, visiting card Design
- Digital Portfolio Development & Presentation

Students will learn-

- Apply basic concepts to develop construction (drawing) techniques
- Ability to manipulate drawings through editing and plotting techniques
- Produce template drawings
- Understand and demonstrate dimensioning concepts and techniques
- Become familiar with the use of Blocks, Design Centre, and Tool Palettes
- Become familiar with Solid Modelling concepts and Design techniques.

ADOBE ILLUSTRATOR

Adobe Illustrator is used by designers to create and edit vector graphics, which are images that are defined by mathematical equations rather than pixels. This allows the graphics to be scaled up or down without losing quality. Illustrator allows designers to embed all fonts, links, and design elements directly within the file. The Portable Document Format (PDF) preserves all of that data as a print-ready vector image,

TOOLS AND THEIR FUNCTIONS

Selection tool: The most commonly used tool, which selects text and graphic frames and allows you to work with an object using its bounding box.
Direct Selection tool: Selects the contents of a frame, such as a placed graphic, allows you to work directly with edit able objects, such as paths, rectangles, or type that has been converted to a text outline.
Group Selection tool: Selects a group of points all at once, such as the four points of rectangle.
Magic Wand tool: Selects all objects in a document with the same or similar fill color, stroke weight, stroke color, opacity, or blending mode. By specifying the Color Range, or Tolerance, you can control what the Magic Wand tool selects.
Lasso tool: Selects objects, anchor points, or path segments by being dragged around all or part of the object.
Pen tool: Creates a line between two anchor points you make. Creates straight lines if you simply click and release to make anchor points.
Add Anchor Point tool: Adds a point to a path, which is a simple way to change any path. This helps to turn one shape into another.
Convert Anchor Point tool: Changes the control handles around an anchor point reshaping the segments controlled by that anchor point.
Type tool: Creates re sizable and moveable text frames in which you can type text.
Type on a Path tool: Used to type on an object's path.
Line tool: Creates straight lines.
Ellipse tool: Creates ellipse shapes that hold text.
Rectangle tool: Creates rectangle shapes that hold color or text.
Polygon tool: Creates polygon shapes that hold color or text.
Paintbrush tool: Draws a path and applies a brush stroke simultaneously.
Pencil tool: Draws open and closed paths as if you were drawing with a pencil on paper. It is most useful for fast sketching or creating a hand-drawn look.
Smooth tool: Removes excess angles from an existing path or a section of a path.
Arc tool: Creates a curved line segment or a closed, wedge-like shape.
Spiral tool: Creates a spiral-shaped object of a given radius and number of winds.

Star tool: Creates star-shaped objects with a given size and number of points.
Erase tool: Removes part of an existing path or stroke. You can use this tool on paths, but not on text.
Rotate tool: Changes orientation, or angle, of the object on the page.
Reflect tool: Flips the object across an invisible axis that you specify. You can copy while reflecting to create a mirror image of an object.
Scale tool: Scales a selected object by being dragged anywhere in the document window. Scales objects relative to their center points, or to any reference point you make anywhere in the document window.
Shear tool: Slants or skews an object along its horizontal axis, also rotates both of the object's axes.
Reshape tool: Selects one or more anchor points and sections of paths and then adjusts the selected points and paths globally.
Warp tool: Stretches objects as if they were made of clay. When you drag or pull portions of an object using this tool, the pulled areas attenuate.
Twirl tool: Creates swirling distortions of an object.
Pucker tool: Deflates an object by moving control points toward the cursor.
Bloat tool: Inflates an object by moving control points away from the cursor.
Scallop tool: Adds random, smooth, arc-shaped details to the outline of an object.
Crystallize tool: Adds random spike- and arc-shaped details to the outline of an object.
Wrinkle tool: Adds random arc and spike shaped details to the outline of an object.
Free Transform tool: Provides a way to perform any transformation, such as rotating and scaling.
Symbol Spray tool: Creates a set of symbol instances or increases more instances to an existing set.
Symbol Shift tool: Moves symbol instances around.
Symbol Scrunch tool: Pulls symbol instances together or apart. Use this tool to shape the density distribution of a symbol set.
Symbol Size tool: Increases or decreases the size of symbol instances in an existing symbol set.
Symbol Spin tool: Orients the symbol instances in a set. Symbol instances located near the cursor orient in the direction of the cursors movement.
Symbol Stain tool: Colorizes symbol instances changing the hue toward the tint color, while preserving the original luminosity.
Symbol Screener tool: Increases or decreases the transparency of the symbol instances in a set.
Symbol Style tool: Applies or removes a graphic style from a symbol instance.
Column Graph tool: Compares one or more sets of values by using rectangles whose lengths are proportional to the values.
Bar Graph tool: Is similar to a column graph, but positions the rectangles horizontally instead of vertically.
Line Graph tool: Uses points to represent one or more sets of values, with a different line joining the points in each set. This type of graph is often used to show the trend of one or more subjects over a period of time.

Area Graph tool: Is similar to a line graph, but emphasizes totals as well as changes in values.
Pie Graph tool: Creates a circular graph whose wedges represent the relative percentages of the values compared.
Radar Graph tool: Compares sets of values at given points in time or in particular categories, and is displayed in a circular format.
Gradient tool: Changes the direction of a gradient, its beginning point and endpoint, and applies a gradient across multiple objects

WINDOW MENU

The Window menu in Adobe Illustrator is a collection of panels, bars, and windows that you can use to create and manipulate your documents and files. You can access the Window menu by clicking on the Window option in the top menu bar of the Illustrator application. The Window menu contains options to open, close, and arrange panels, as well as to switch between different workspaces.

You can also toggle the Application Frame on or off from the Window menu. The Application Frame groups all the workspace elements in a single, integrated window that lets you treat the application as a single unit.

If you want to show or hide the menu bar in Illustrator, you can go to the Window menu and select Workspace. Then, click Show Menu Bar from the drop-down menu 3. Alternatively, you can use the keyboard shortcut CTRL+M to show the menu bar.

ADOBE PHOTOSHOP

Adobe Photoshop is a powerful tool that offers advanced photo editing features such as crop, rotate, straighten, adjust light and color, remove unwanted objects, and edit raw photos. The software also provides a range of creative options such as generative AI features, adjustment presets, and fonts. Adobe Photoshop is widely used by professionals and enthusiasts in the world of digital photography.

Some definitions to get you started:

psd- A .psd file is the file format in which Photoshop saves documents by default. It is a multi- layer document that retains its full editing options when saved. In many cases you will export Layers- Photoshop documents are composed of layers, which can basically be described as single transparent sheets which hold particular pieces of an image. These layers can contain images, text, and vector graphics, and can be rearranged and grouped according to user needs. Layers are controlled with the use of the Layers panel. Often, when you find yourself frustrated with Photoshop, it is because you are trying to perform operations on a layer that is not currently selected. Simply click on the name of a layer in order to designate it as the current layer. Whenever you add text to an image in Photoshop, the text appears on a new layer. You can "Merge down" layers to consolidate them, and "flatten image" to force the entire contents of the image onto one layer.
Selections- Selections refer to regions in an image that will be affected by the various tools. A selection in Photoshop is similar to a selection that you highlight in a word processing application. Once you have selected an area, you can apply a tool to it, such as paintbrush, or perform an operation such as copy or crop. Selections can be any shape and size; the shape depends on which selection tool you are working with. Your selection will apply only to the current layer. If that layer is empty in the region selected, you will get an error message. When this happens, go to the layers pane and select the correct layer.

Resolution- Resolution refers to the number of pixels in a full size image. An image with hi resolution contains more information than an image with lo resolution, and therefore, one can always convert a hi-res image to a lo-res image. However, because information is lost in the conversion, the reverse is not true. If you were to increase the resolution of a lo-res image, the result would be fuzzy.

Screen resolution is close to 72 pixels per inch, so if you are working with graphics to be viewed only on screen, 72 should be fine. Depending on the printer you are using, you would want to increase this above 72 for graphics that will be printed. 300 is usually an acceptable resolution for images to be printed; 150 would be the lowest acceptable resolution for printing. Image Size: Resolution should not be confused with image size, which is also expressed in pixels. Image size deals with the actual number of pixels tall and wide an image is. For an idea of how the two differ, go to Image Size in the Image menu, and plug in different numbers for image size and resolution.

Color mode- Color mode refers to the types of colors you will be using in your image. CMYK and RGB are the most important of these modes to be familiar with.
• CMYK is the setting for images that will be printed to paper. The letters refer to the four channels of color used to create every color available: cyan, magenta, yellow, and black.
• RGB refers to the three channel color mode suitable for images to be viewed on the web:
red , green, and blue.

WINDOWS MENUS PANEL

Menus are probably the most familiar interface elements to a new Photoshop user. They contain all sorts of options, but since there are not as visible as panes or the toolbar, they are often only partially explored. I'll take time right now to go over the menus and give a brief description to orient you to each.

File	contains all of the stuff you'd expect it to, with a few extras including Import, which deals with scanning, and Save for Web, which allows you to export a web ready image from your Photoshop file.
Edit	is another familiar menu. In Photoshop, edit houses all of the expected options as well as Fill & Stroke, and other image altering functions.
Image	effect a whole image, for the most part. Here you'll find color adjustments, size adjustments, and any other changes you need to make globally when working with a Photoshop file.
Layer	is similar to the image menu, but it contains options that effect only current or selected layers. I'll explain layers a little later, but for now, just understand that an image in Photoshop consists of stacked transparent layers; options in the Layer menu affect these pieces of the image rather than the complete image.

Select	deals with selections you make. Selecting the specific parts of an image you'd like to alter is a difficult part of working in Photoshop. This menu gives you some options regarding selections, including the ability to save selections, reverse them, or add to them. Learning the options on the selection menu can really save you some time.
Filter	is probably what most people think about when they think about Photoshop. The filter menu allows you to apply filters to any part of your image. These filters include ways to change the texture of the image, with some potentially radical results.
View	menu is where you change the view settings. You can use this to show and display guidelines on the image, and to zoom in and out, among other things.
Window	allows you to toggle back and forth between hide and show for each interface element. This is the first place you should go if you lose track of a particular window while you're working.
Help	The help documentation isn't so helpful, but for some reason, this menu contains two nice features: resize image, and export transparent image, which I'll get to later.

The options bar	which is located directly underneath the menus, is a useful tool when working with the different Photoshop tools. As you can see right now, when the selection tool is in use, the options bar reflects the changes that can be made to how that specific tool operates. Here, you have selection options, and style options, which includes the ability to make the selection tool a specific size in pixels. When you switch tools, to the paintbrush tool for instance, these options change. When a tool in Photoshop isn't behaving as you expect it to, the options bar should be the first place you look to fix it.

PHOTOSHOP TOOLS AND THEIR FUNCTIONS

Rectangular Marquee Tool (M)- Use this tool to make selections on your image, in a rectangular shape. This changes the area of your image that is affected by other tools or actions to be within the defined shape.
Holding the [Shift] key while dragging your selection, restricts the shape to a perfect square.
Holding the [Alt] key while dragging sets the center of the rectangle to where your cursor started.
Move Tool (V)- Use this tool to, well, move things. Usually you use it to move a Layer around after it has been placed. Hold the [Shift] key to limit the movements to vertical/horizontal.
Polygon Lasso Tool (L)- Ok, this should be the Lasso Tool, but I use the Polygon Lasso a lot more often. Use this to draw selections in whatever shape you would like. To close the selection, either click on the beginning point (you'll see the cursor change when you're on it), or just double-click. When holding the [Ctrl] key, you'll see the cursor change, and the next time you click, it will close your selection.

Magic Wand Tool (W)- Use this to select a color range. It will select the block of color, or transparency, based on wherever you click. In the Options Bar at the top, you can change the Tolerance to make your selections more/less precise.
Crop Tool (C)- The Crop Tool works similarly to the Rectangular Marquee tool (see above if you have no short- term memory). The difference is when you press the [Enter/Return] key, it crops your image to the size of the box. Any information that was on the outside of the box is now gone. Not permanently, you can still undo.
Slice Tool (K)- This is used mostly for building websites or splitting up one image into smaller ones when saving out. It's kind of an advanced tool, and since you're in here for the basics, we'll kind of skip over it. Kinda makes you mad I made you read all that for nothing, huh?
Healing Brush Tool (J)- This is a useful tool. Mildly advanced. You can use this tool to repair scratches and specs and stuff like that on images. It works like the Brush tool (see below). You choose your cursor size, then holding the [Alt] key, you select a nice/clean area of your image. Let go of the [Alt] key and paint over the bad area. It basically copies the info from the first area to the second, inthe form of the Brush tool. Only, at the end, it averages the information, so it blends.
Brush Tool (B)- This is one of the first tools ever. It's what Photoshop is based off of. Well, not really, but it's basic. It paints one your image, in whatever color you have selected, and whatever size you have selected. There's a lot of options for it, but this is basic, so you don't get to learn them.
Clone Stamp Tool (S)- This is very similar to the Healing Brush Tool (see above). You use it the exact same way, except this tool doesn't blend at the end. It's a direct copy of the information from the first selected area to the second.
History Brush Tool (H)- This tool works just like the Brush Tool (see above) except the information that it paints with is from the original state of your image. If you go Window>History, you can see the History Palette. The History Brush tool paints with the information from whatever History state is selected.
Eraser Tool (E)- This is the anti-Brush tool. It works like an eraser (duh) and erases whatever information wherever you click and drag it. If you're on a Layer, it will erase the information transparent. If you are on the background layer, it erases with whatever secondary color you have selected.
Gradient Tool (G)- You can use this to make a gradiation of colors. Gradiation doesn't appear to be a word, but it makes sense anyway. It creates a blending of your foreground color and background color when you click and drag it. Like a gradient.
Blur Tool (R)- The Blur tool is cool. It makes things blurry. Click and drag to make things blurry. The more you click and drag, the blurrier things get.
Dodge Tool (O)- This tool isn't as crappy as the car brand. It's used to lighten whatever area you use it on. As long as it is not absolute black. Absolute black won't lighten.
Path Selection Tool (A)- You use this tool when working with paths. Since this is all about the basics, I won't go into details. It's related to the Pen Tool (see below) though.
Horizontal Type Tool (T)- It makes type. Or text. Or whatever you want to call it. You can click a single point and start typing right away. Or you can click and drag to make a bounding box of where your text/type goes. There's a lot of options for the Type Tool. Just play around, it's straight-forward.

Pen Tool (P)- I mentioned this tool above. It's for creating paths, in which you would use the Path Selection Tool to select the path. Paths can be used in a few different ways, mostly to create clipping paths, or to create selections. You use the tool by clicking to add a point. If you click and drag, it will change the shape of your path, allowing you to bend and shape the path for accurate selections and such.

Rectangle Tool (U)- By default it draws a Shape Layer in the form of a rectangle. It fills the rectangle with whatever foreground color you have selected. It's complicated, don't hurt yourself with this one.

Notes Tool (N)- Like post-it notes, but digital. You can use this tool to add small little note boxes to your image. These are useful if you're very forgetful or if you're sharing your Photoshop file with someone else. I'm pretty sure it only works with .PSD files.

Eyedropper Tool (I)- This tool works by changing your foreground color to whatever color you click on. Holding the [Alt] key will change your background color.

Hand Tool (T)- You can really make short work of your job with the Hand Tool. It's for moving your entire image within a window. So if you're zoomed in and your image area is larger than the window, you can use the Hand Tool to navigate around your image. Just click and drag. You can get to this tool at any time when using any other tool by pressing and holding the [Spacebar].

Zoom Tool (Z)- Pretty obvious what this tool does. It allows you to zoom into your image. Don't be dumb, it doesn't actually change the size of your image. Hold the [Alt] key to zoom out. Holding the [Shift] key will zoom all of the windows you have open at the same time. Double-click on the Zoom Tool in the palette to go back to 100% view.

Foreground Color- These are your color boxes. Foreground (in the front) and Background (in the back). Click on either one to bring up the color select dialog box.

Detailed Report

16/02/2024: The homeless street children face challenges each day and lead a very harsh life. They are often subject to abuse, neglect, exploitation or lured into illegal activities. Several NGOs are coming forward to uplift these underprivileged children. One such NGO in Pune, is Dadanchi Shala, focusing on educating the street children who are entangled into the begging racket especially at signals.

Department of Botany, Poona College of Arts, Science & Commerce, lent a helping hand to this NGO. The staff and students collected funds and bought stationary that included notebooks, pencils, pens, erasers, compass boxes, colour paints, crayons, etc.

On the 16th of February, 2024, under the supervision of Dr. Aafreen A. Ahmed and Miss Nabila Shaikh, T.Y. B.Sc Botany students visited the Balasaheb Thakre Kaladalan, where the NGO had their Annual Gathering. We got a glimpse of the activities conducted by the NGO to engage the beggars on street, educate them and sensitize them on cleanliness, importance of education and a better life.

The founders were happy to receive the donation. They took us around the Art Gallery showcasing students' activities, their art work, thus encouraging them. This visit was a part of Extension activity for students of Poona College, to instil in them empathy towards the underprivileged. Seven students visited the place and interacted with volunteers of the NGO and offered to help in their cuase in whatever way possible after graduation.

DETAILED REPORT

Cultivation of medicinal plants: Moringa

07/10/2023: The initiative of Department of Botany, AKI's Poona College of Arts, Science and Commerce, "Project Moringa" was further pursued by transplanting saplings in soil.

Students and staff visited the land at Bopgaon with the seedlings that had grown successfully in seedling trays. Students, under the supervision of co-ordinator Dr. Aafreen A. Ahmed and Dr. Rafik Shaikh prepared beds and laid pipelines for drip irrigation. This was a tedious process, but students carried out work efficiently!

After a short break, students transplanted saplings in beds at adequate distance so that the plants establish well in soil in the coming days. With assistance of the locals, students could complete their work in time and make arrangements for drip irrigation.

In all, 16 students volunteered to work on field for cultivation of Moringa saplings on land.

Report on Spreading Awareness on HIV/AIDS on eve of World Aid Day

On 2nd December in Association with Ribbon Club an awareness program on HIV/AIDS awareness was organized in Poona College.

This year's theme for World AIDS Day is "World AIDS Day 35: Remember and Commit." This annual event serves as a reminder of the global struggle to end HIV-related stigma, an opportunity to honor those we have lost, and a rallying cry to commit to working toward a day when HIV is no longer a public health threat.

The first World AIDS Day took place in 1988, providing a platform to raise awareness about HIV and AIDS and honor the lives affected by the epidemic. This year marks the 35th commemoration of this important day. Over the past 35 years, there has been significant progress in addressing HIV and AIDS thanks to advancements in medical research, increased access to treatment and prevention, and a broader

Students at Poona College were made aware about this disease what precaution can be taken to stop the spread of the disease. Volunteers were assembled on stage booklet were given to them

Where they read and discussed about the said topic and shared knowledge with each other.

AKI's Poona College of Arts, Science & Commerce
Report of Skill Development Course in Fashion Designing for the Students
Academic year 2024-25

Introduction:

The 8-month fashion designing course aimed to equip students with comprehensive skills and knowledge in various aspects of the fashion industry. Throughout the course, students delved into the intricacies of beautiful embroidery techniques, fashion illustration, garment designing, stitching, and understanding the cost of garments. The curriculum was carefully crafted to provide a holistic understanding of fashion design, enabling students to explore their creativity while honing practical skills essential for success in the field.

Curriculum Overview:
Embroidery: Students learned a variety of embroidery techniques, including hand embroidery, and embellishment methods. Through hands-on practice and guided instruction, they mastered the art of creating intricate and aesthetically pleasing designs, incorporating different stitches, patterns, and materials.

Fashion Illustration: The course covered the fundamentals of fashion illustration, teaching students how to accurately depict garments, figures, and fashion concepts through sketching and rendering. Emphasis is placed on developing a strong sense of proportion, anatomy, and design aesthetics, enabling students to effectively communicate their creative ideas visually.

Garment Designing: Students are introduced to the process of garment designing from conceptualization to realization. They learn how to translate their design ideas into functional and fashionable garments, considering factors such as fabric selection, silhouette, construction techniques, and garment embellishments. Practical exercises and design projects allowed students to apply their creativity and technical skills in developing unique and innovative designs.

Stitching Techniques: The course provides comprehensive training in garment construction and stitching techniques. Students acquired proficiency in sewing, pattern making, draping, and garment assembly, ensuring they were capable of bringing their design concepts to life with precision and craftsmanship. Hands-on sewing projects allowed students to refine their stitching skills under the guidance of an experienced instructor.

Costing of Garments: Understanding the cost of garments is crucial for success in the fashion industry. Students learned how to estimate the cost of production for various types of garments, considering factors such as materials, labor, overhead expenses, and profit margins. Practical exercises and case studies provided students with real-world insights into cost analysis and pricing strategies, preparing them for the business aspects of fashion design.

Student Progress and Achievements:

Throughout the course, students demonstrated significant progress in their skills and understanding of fashion design concepts. They showcased their creativity and technical abilities through various projects, assignments, and practical assessments. Many students produced exceptional work, incorporating innovative design elements and demonstrating mastery of embroidery, illustration, garment construction, and costing principles.

Conclusion:

The 8-month fashion designing course provided students with a comprehensive foundation in various aspects of fashion design, including embroidery, illustration, garment designing, stitching, and costing. Through a combination of theoretical instruction and practical hands-on experience, students developed the skills and confidence necessary to pursue careers in the fashion industry. As they continue to refine their talents and expand their knowledge, these students are well-equipped to make valuable contributions to the world of fashion with their creativity, craftsmanship, and business acumen.

Educational Visit to a PDCC Bank

Department of Economics, PG & Research Centre in collaboration with IQAC had organized an Educational Visit to "Pune District Central Co-operative Bank (PDCC), Camp Branch" today, 8th February, 2024.

Students of Economics, Commerce & B.Voc. (BFSI) visited to the Bank. Mr. Nitin Kanade, the Branch Manager, and Mr. Ravi Tiwari, the Assistant Manager, provided valuable insights to the students. They explained how to open a bank account, conduct cash withdrawals and deposits, apply for various types of loans, discussed the bank's operations, and emphasized the importance of saving money. They also elaborated on function of their bank as a cooperative & role of cooperatives in banking system.

The students eagerly learnt these valuable lessons on financial literacy, money management, and the world of banking. It was indeed an enlightening session that allowed students to gain financial wisdom from seasoned professionals.

We extend our sincere gratitude to PDCC Bank officials, especially Mr. Nitin Kanade, for facilitating this exposure visit for the students of Poona College.

We all are highly thankful to Principal Professor (Dr.) Aftab Anwar Shaikh and Vice Principal, Mr. Moinuddin Khan, Vice Principal & IQAC coordinator Dr. Iqbal Shaikh for their cooperation.

Dr. Gulnawaz Usmani and Mr. Milind Patil coordinated this visit and about 27 students participated in this extension activity.

Report of Participation in Dnyansarita Granth Dindi

All the NSS Volunteers participated with great zeal and enthusiasm the procession of Dnyansarita Granth Dindi All the students gathered at Ganesh Peth in the morning at 9:00am .A NSS volunteer was dressed as Mahatma

The Pune Book Festival was organized by the Indian Ministry of Education, in collaboration with the Maharashtra Government, Pune Municipal Corporation, Savitribai Phule Pune University NSS and Widyarthi Vikas Mandal on Fergusson College Ground, Pune, from December 15th, 2023 to 24th December 2023. This event was commenced by a Pustak Dindi on 14th December 2023 at 9:00 AM at Bharati Vidyapeeth's College of Fine Arts and proceeded from the Shivaji Statue Campus to the Swami Vivekananda Statue near the Anna Bhau Sathe Auditorium.

The procession included 29 "Dindis" from various colleges, each assigned an individual number and Swami Vivekananda's name. A memorable moment was the Guinness World Record achieved that day with an impressive collection of 7,500 books. The day concluded with a warm welcome at Garware College and the continuation of festivities at Ferguson College. On December 16th, the Book Festival was inaugurated, featuring events for students. College students conducted art demonstrations, including landscape and portrait sketches, providing an artistic experience for book lovers.

The volunteers joined the procession from Mahatma Phule Vada to Fergussion College. The Dindi was inaugurated by Dr. Iqbal Shaikh, Vice Principal Poona college. Poster of Mahatma Phule and various books of Mahatama Phule were part of the procession.
